GLEAM OF GOLD FOR BONUS FUND NOT DISCOVERED

Congress Still Searching for Means of Financing Program

AWAIT HARDING'S AID

Various Plans Are Set Up Only to Be Bowled Over Later.

Washington, Feb. 16.—President Harding favors the imposition of a sales tax to pay a soldiers' bonus.

The administration's decision was made known to congress in a letter addressed today to Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, chairman of the senate finance committee, and Rep. Fordney, Republican, Michigan, chairman of the house ways and means committee.

In his letter, the president told congress that if the sales tax could not be enacted to finance cash payments to veterans of the world war that the bonus bill should be postponed.

Washington, Feb. 16.—No gleam of gold had today rewarded anxious congressional diggers after soldier bonus money as the mix up in congress over the bonus legislation grew more clamorous and there was insistence by the leaders that the issue be settled.

President Harding's letter on bonus legislation and finance, promised last Tuesday, is awaited by the house and senate, but there is lively apprehension that it will not point the way out of the difficulties which confront those bodies. This letter was due to reach the senate finance committee today.

In the meantime various plans for the bonus are being set up only to be bowled over by quickly concentrated opposition. Sales tax advocates were busy with members of the house but were forced to admit defeat for this means of raising bonus funds was certain if presented.

Rep. McFadden, Republican, Pennsylvania and others continued to press their arguments in favor of use of interests and principal of the foreign war loans. They were checked by treasury objection that such a plan would dislocate proposed treasury debt settlements.

A plan of levying an excise tax upon the privilege of use and enjoyment of large land holdings based upon their unimproved value with increased inheritance taxes was advanced in letters to President Harding and Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee, by Oscar E. Keller, Republican, Minnesota. Each of these plans has been rejected by the ways and means committee.

Rep. Watson, Republican, Pennsylvania, brought forward the bold course of abandoning all bonus plans except the paid up insurance. He estimated the insurance would cost for the first year about $21,000,000 increasing annually until the total cost at the end of 20 years would be in the neighborhood of $6,000,000,000. His suggestion received little support.

REINFORCEMENTS OF BRITISH TROOPS ARE AIDING IN BELFAST

Belfast, Feb. 16.—British troop reinforcements arrived here today to strengthen the garrison and to assist in the preservation of order in Belfast throughout Ulster province. They consisted of a battalion from the Warwickshire infantry regiment.

Shooting was renewed this morning when workmen were attacked on their way to their places of employment.

A priest—the Rev. Father McGrath—a woman, a policeman and a civilian pedestrian were wounded by a bomb explosion in Earl Street.

A police sergeant who was accidentally wounded while examining a machine gun in the police barracks died of his wounds.

A man living in Sherwood street was wounded in the breast by an unknown assailant. The victim was sitting in his home reading a newspaper when some one knocked upon the door. The householder opened the door and as he did so received a bullet.

Ten persons have died as a result of disorders since Wednesday morning one was shot and killed outright others died of wounds.

POSTMASTER RESIGNS

Cincinnati, Feb. 16.—Postmaster Joel C. Clure yesterday confirmed a dispatch from Washington, that he had tendered his resignation, to take effect on March 1. Mr. Clure is a Democrat, and has served six years and two months. His resignation, he said, was made necessary because of demands of his outside interests.

SUICIDE REPORT PROVES FALSE

Columbus, Feb. 16.—Report of a suicide at 1068 1-2 West Broad Street reached police headquarters.

Policemen, entering a hallway found the body of Mrs. Grace Rush in a heap on the floor. Near the relaxed fingers of one hand lay a revolver. But there was no blood.

Announcing their intention of taking her to "an undertaker's" and ordering bystanders to "tell her folks to call headquarters," the officers rolled the body onto a stretcher.

But—just as they began lifting the stretcher, Grace opened her eyes.

Investigation disclosed that she had been discharged from her position.

Police charged that, instead of fainting, Mrs. Rush feigned with a view to obtaining sympathy.

Despite the fact that the gun was not discharged a false report was registered on the prison blotter.

PACIFIC TREATY BEING STUDIED BY THE SENATE

Hitchcock Expresses Dissatisfaction With Secret Negotiations

ASKS INFORMATION

Republican Irreconcilables Are in Sympathy With Democrats' Views

Washington, Feb. 16.—The four-power Pacific treaty was again the subject, today, of close scrutiny and considerable debate when the senate foreign relations committee resumed consideration of it.

Sen. Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking Democrat member of committee continued to express dissatisfaction with what he described as the lack of available information regarding the secret negotiations which led to the making of the treaty.

Senator Walsh, of Montana, and other Democratic senators who still reflect the league of nations views of former President Woodrow Wilson were said to share Hitchcock's dissatisfaction and to be prepared to join him in inquiring further into the treaty.

It was the understanding of several of the committee members that Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the committee chairman and member of the American delegation; Baron Admiral Kato, head of the Japanese delegation, and former Premier Arthur James Balfour, chief spokesman of the British delegation to the armament conference, were principally responsible for the original draft of the treaty.

He had expected, Hitchcock explained, that the secret negotiations resulting in the treaty and the supplemental agreement to eliminate the Japanese homeland from it would be fully set forth in the minutes of the secret sessions of the conference which were laid before the senate by President Harding when he submitted the seven treaties, and twelve resolutions evolved by the conference.

The complete absence of any record of the circumstances and conditions under which the treaty was entered into, and under which President Harding and secretary Hughes disagreed as to whether it concerned the Japanese homeland, Hitchcock said, was a surprise to him and other Democratic senators who were seeking enlightenment as to how far the United States was bound by it.

Hitchcock said that it was his purpose to press for immediate consideration of his resolution calling upon the president for complete information regarding secret negotiations and private conversations regarding the treaty unless such information was forthcoming at today's session of the senate foreign relations committee.

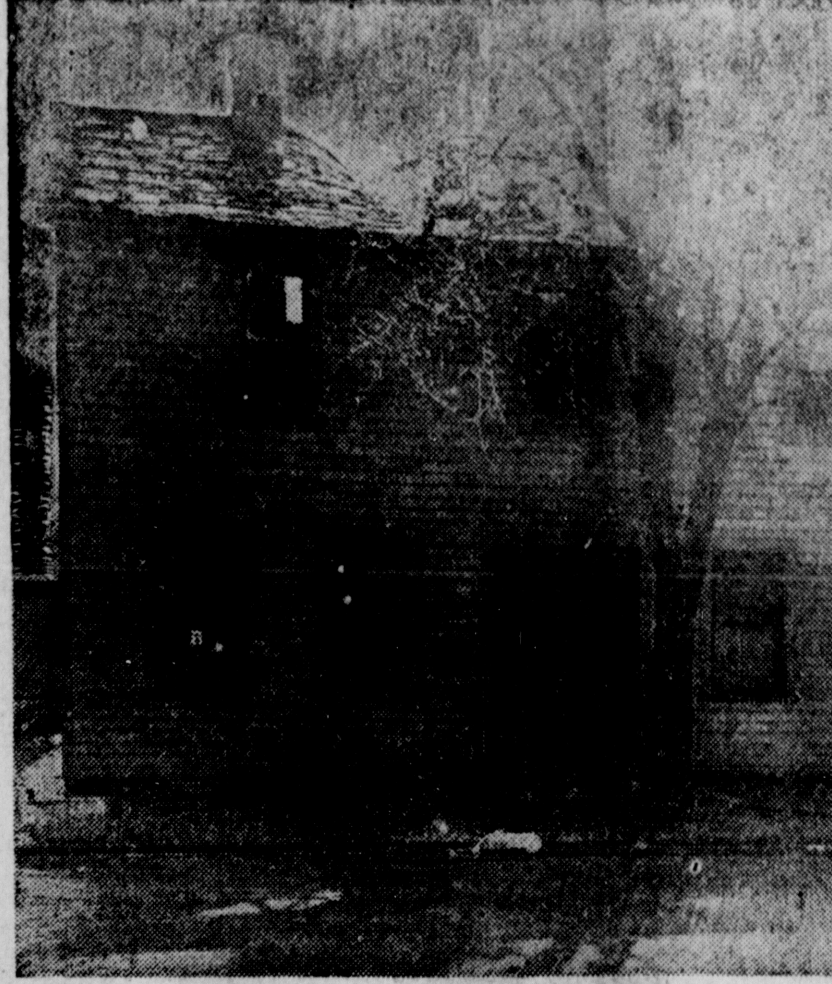

Republican "irreconcilables" including Borah, of Idaho; Brandegee of Connecticut; Moses of New Hampshire, and Johnson of California, who are members of the committee, said they were entirely in sympathy with the purpose of Hitchcock's move.

It was understood that they were not satisfied with explanation made by both the president and Senator Lodge that the Pacific pact does not involve the use of force and that they were prepared to offer a reservation expressly stipulating that under no circumstances would the United States be required to use its man power in order to live up to the treaty.

ONE MAY BE KILLED

Toledo, Feb. 16.—Belief that a death may have been hidden in the wreckage caused by the explosion which rocked the city Tuesday night, was expressed by police today, when fragments of clothing were found fluttering in the top of a tree near the scene of the blast on the farm of Walter Purser, near the city limits.

HOSPITAL GUTTED BY FIRE

The photograph of the portion of the McClellan Hospital which was swept by fire, Thursday morning about nine o'clock, shows some of the damage done by the blaze. Practically the entire second story of the frame structure was destroyed by the flames which ate out the inside of the building and virtually all of the shingle roof, leaving only the walls. Firemen prevented the conflagration from spreading to the brick annex. Nine patients of the hospital at the time escaped injury.

PROBE CONTINUES INTO AFFAIRS OF "CHICAGO PONZI"

Police Engaged In Search For Alleged "Get-Rich-Quick Wizard"

Chicago, Feb. 16.—While the inquiry into the tangled affairs of Raymond J. Bischoff, called the "Chicago Ponzi" proceeded, today, the police and United States secret service men were engaged in a vigorous search for Leslie Harrington, alleged "get-rich-quick wizard" who fled from Chicago Saturday morning leaving behind debtors whom he is alleged to have defrauded of more than $1,000,000.

Harrington was head of the "Novaculite Company," which investigators charge was an unstable concern organized chiefly as a medium for the sale of worthless stocks and investment securities. Eight alleged selling agents employed by Harrington are under arrest, charged with him with obtaining money under false pretenses.

In the belief that Harrington may be planning to join his wife, who is at Palm Beach, Fla., the authorities today established a dragnet throughout that section. Mrs. Harrington is under surveillance in the expectation that she may receive some word from her husband.

Indications were, today, that bankruptcy proceedings against Charles H. Apple, investment and securities dealer, would be dismissed for want of jurisdiction. Apple claims that his headquarters are in Kansas City and that the courts have no jurisdiction. Apple also declares that he is not insolvent and that investors will not lose a cent through him.

Bischoff, who was thrown into bankruptcy, Saturday, and who is alleged to have fleeced thousands of gullible investors out of sums aggregating $5,000,000, blamed competition by Harrington and Apple for his collapse.

Mellon Issues Denial Of Watson's Charges In Senate

Washington, Feb. 16.—Andrew D. Mellon denied, today, that he was ineligible to serve as secretary of the treasury.

While declining to issue a formal reply to charges of Senator Watson, Democrat of Georgia, who declared in the senate that Mellon was serving illegally because of his vast business and financial interests the secretary of the treasury said that he was NOT "disturbed by these statements because he had retired as president and director of all banks in which he was interested before becoming a member of the cabinet."

Watson declared that secretary Mellon is holding the office of secretary of the treasury, in violation of the law, and can be arrested for retaining the place if anyone sees fit to swear out a warrant charging him with the offense.

The law which Mr. Mellon is violating, Senator Watson said, prohibits the secretary of the treasury from engaging in any kind of business of commerce.

Senator Watson told the senate that Mr. Mellon could be impeached "any time we see fit" and read to the senate the provision of section 243 of the revised statutes which, he declared, expressly forbids Mr. Mellon to retain his place. He declared that by staying in office, the secretary was violating the law adding that it was generally known that Mr. Mellon was one of the wealthiest individuals in the country.

The assertions by the Georgia senator were made in connection with several speeches on the accomplishments of the two major political parties. He informed the senate, in the course of his remarks, that the law was passed in the first Congress of the United States and that during the administration of President Grant the name of A. T. Stewart had been withdrawn as a nominee as secretary of the treasury when attention was called to provisions of the act.

Senator Watson asked Senator Heflin, Alabama, for his opinion on "what the people will think of the way our government is being run when a criminal, unconvicted but disobeying the penalty, openly and notoriously committing a crime, is left in charge of our national funds and the refunding of debts of $7,000,000,000."

LOCOMOBILE PLANT TO CONTINUE WORK

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 16.—Operation of the plant of the Locomobile Co. here, despite the receivership, will continue without interruption, it was stated by the management. So far as internal affairs of the company are concerned, it was further stated, there will be no disturbance of the routine of the business. This is due largely to appointment of men within the organization to the positions of receivers in the various federal districts.

The Central Trust Co., will administer the affairs of the company in Chicago.

The official statement says that actions in each federal district are progressing harmoniously under a receivership program looking to reorganization.

KEYYON TO RESIGN ON FEBRUARY 24

Washington, Feb. 16.—Senator William S. Kenyon today wired Gov. Kendall, of Iowa, that he would resign from the senate on Feb. 24 to assume his new duties as United States Judge for the eighth judicial circuit.

Dissention In Miners' Ranks At Fever Heat

Lewis' Supporters Confident That Leader Will Emerge Victorious Over Howat Insurgents at Indianapolis—Fight Is Strong.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16.—Lewis' supporters and Howat insurgents after a night, which saw great forces of missionaries buttonholing, haranguing and in some cases delegating, entered Tomlinson Hall, today, cocky in demeanor, but under the surface a bit uncertain as to which of the two camps held the ace in the hole.

John L. Lewis, only smiled when asked to forecast the result of the roll call vote which will decide whether the administration of the United Mine Workers of America is to go down in defeat before the committee by insurgent forces led by Alexander Howat and Frank Farrington. That smile was intended as evidence of his belief that his fight is won.

Howat and Farrington, on the other hand carried the serious look of crusaders and the only comment they had to offer in the way of prediction was that their forces had been successful in the three skirmishes already engaged in and that they were not fearing the final show down.

Howat's strength has been sufficient to convince administration crowds that the convention fight now waging is the strongest and best organized opposition Lewis had to face in any of his convention battles. It is considered the real crisis in his career as international Chief and Lewis and his supporters are not asleep on the job now.

They have called to the colors many squads of trained missionaries and they have kept them incessantly at work since the dangerous Howat shadow cast itself on the convention.

It was commonly reported among the delegates today, that supporters

BITTER FIGHT OVER IRELAND EXPECTED

DAYTON ANGLE TO ROBBERY DEVELOPS

London, Feb. 16.—A bitter parliamentary fight was forecast when the Irish free state act was called up for second reading in the house of commons today. Political enemies of Premier Lloyd George gathered their forces for an attack both upon the measure and the premier.

Two amendments were drawn up by opponents of the bill. The first offered by Captain Charles G. Craig, an Irish unionist, would give the government's pledge to Ulster province that she would lose no territory in the Irish settlement.

The second proposed that the Irish free state should not be called into official existence until Ireland is calm and peaceful.

Although Downing street officials refused to make any predictions the general impression in government circles was that the bill would pass. It was conceded, however, that opponents of the measure had gained some strength.

PATIENTS REMOVED FROM PATH OF FLAMES EARLY THURSDAY MORNING

Blaze Breaks Out at 9 O'clock Along Roof of Frame Structure at Second and Detroit Streets, Partially Destroying Building.

PATIENT ON OPERATING TABLE

Dr. Ben R. McClellan About to Perform Operation When Alarm Sent In—No One Injured—New Hospital Put In Use.

Patients were rescued from McClellan Hospital in their bed clothes when fire partially destroyed the frame main building of the hospital, Thursday morning, entailing a loss variously estimated at several thousand dollars.

Fanned by a strong cold breeze, the flames which started along the ridge pole in the frame building, were driven rapidly down through the shallow attic into the upstairs rooms of the building, where six patients were confined. Volunteers who arrived before the fire department assisted nurses in an orderly removal of patients in that ward, either to the ward in the brick annex or out of the building.

Patients, who were in direct path of the flames as they gutted the entire second story of the frame building and who were taken out under the direction of hospital attaches, were:

Rufus Ary, Paintersville.
Mrs. Ralph Glass, Jamestown.
Mrs. George Galloway, Xenia.
Forest Ellis, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bonner Ellis of the Hussey pike.

Leonard Stine, 15, of near Cedarville.
Mrs. Harry Cline, Oregonia.

Patients who were in the ward in the brick annex, which was threatened by the flames, were George Marshall, Cedarville, James Osborn, Xenia, and a Mrs. Benedict, who came to the hospital Wednesday, from her home between Clifton and Springfield.

In the Operating Room
Mrs. Harry Cline, Oregonia, was on the operating table in the operating room located in the rear of the main building, second floor, when the fire was discovered.

Dr. B. R. McClellan was preparing to operate, but the anesthetic had not yet been given when the flames were discovered. According to Miss Mary Gibbons, head nurse at the hospital, who was preparing to assist in the operation.

Another few minutes and the surgeon would have been in the course of the operation, when it would have been necessary to move the patient from the path of the flames. "I think it was the will of God that I came to the hospital at nine o'clock, this morning instead of at eight as usual," said Dr. McClellan after the fire.

Mrs. Cline was wheeled to the brick annex out of the path of the flames.

FORMER BANDIT LEAD ER VILLA "REFUSES TO JOIN FORCES AGAINST" GOVERNMENT

Mexico City, Feb. 16.—Invitations to Francisco Villa or "Pancho" as he used to be known in the days of his outlawry, to join the revolutionary agitations against the Obregon government, have fallen upon deaf ears for the former bandit-rebel now looks with a stern and disapproving eye upon anything that opposes law and order.

Villa's loyalty to the government is more notable in contrast with the ways of anti-government agitations now sweeping some quarters. It is reported that "Pancho" to set at rest any anxiety that may be felt toward his attitude will shortly come to Mexico City to reaffirm his support to the Obregon regime.

General Antonio Ruiz, who has just been executed in Chihuahua, plotting against the peace and dignity of the state, was delivered to the federal authorities by Villa. Ruiz had gone to Villa's ranch at Cantillo to seek "Pancho's" co-operation in an anti-government plot. The former rebel chieftain declared that his first citizenship duty was to the state; seized the unsuspecting Ruiz and turned him over to the federal troops.

Colonel Jose Pruneda, brother of the executed rebel leader Antonio Pruneda, has been brought here for trial on the charge of complicity in rebel activities. He formerly commanded a federal regiment at Linarez, state of Nuevo Leon.

President Obregon has issued orders, that in view of sporadic desertions of army officers to join the malcontents, "all resignations of generals and other officers who are dissatisfied with conditions, will be accepted immediately without question."

Apparently there is a concerted move on the part of the revolutionaries in various parts of the country but the rebel bands are small and unimportant. It is believed that not one of them contain more than 200 men and most of them consist of about a dozen men, usually of bandit character.

FOUR ARE INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 16.—The tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad, which were blocked by wreck of the Buffalo-Washington express on that road at Odenton, Md., 15 miles from Baltimore, last night in which four persons were injured, two of them seriously, were cleared by wrecking crews shortly before 4 o'clock this morning, and traffic which had been detained over the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was resumed over the Pennsylvania's own lines.

Twenty-seven other passengers, many of them women, were bruised and thrown into a panic by the accident.

The wreck was caused by the derailment of three of the five cars of the train, and is believed to have been due to a defective or unadjusted switch frog. The station platform at Odenton was partly demolished and the derailed cars jumped ties for a distance of 600 feet.

DISASTER THREATENS OHIO COAL FIELDS

Columbus, Feb. 16.—That an economic disaster if not the elimination of the Ohio coal producing district comprising the Hocking, Pomeroy, Jackson and Crooksville fields, will result if the mining scale and working conditions, proposed by the state committee United Mine Workers of America at their international convention, now in session at Indianapolis, are adopted, is the prediction made here, today, by W. D. McKinney, Columbus, secretary of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange, an organization comprising operators in the southern Ohio coal fields.

These operators are the first in Ohio who publicly announced recently that they will ask their employees to accept wage reductions, ranging from 20 to 46 per cent, effective April 1 next. These operators, also declared their intention of disregarding the four-state wage agreement.

ITALIAN CABINET NOW FACES CRISIS

Rome, Feb. 16.—The official life of the Bonomi cabinet hung in the balance when parliament convened today after a recess of more than a week. The premier announced that he would make a speech in the chamber of deputies defending his government's policies, and would ask for a vote of confidence. This vote, however, may not be taken until tomorrow, owing to the general desire to participate in the debate.

(Premier Bonomi and his cabinet resigned on Feb. 2. After a week's unsuccessful efforts to have a new ministry formed, King Victor Emmanuel prevailed upon Signor Bonomi to remain in office with his old cabinet. Today's test of strength was the first one that the ministry had faced since the premier consented to keep his post.

PATIENTS REMOVED FROM THE PATH OF FLAMES THURSDAY

plial on Rogers street, which was not to be occupied for several weeks, to be prepared for occupancy. The building was put in order and all patients were removed to the new building, Thursday afternoon. In the meantime local business men voluntarily offered trucks to assist in removing beds, bedding and the usual hospital equipment to the new building, and there were plenty of volunteer workmen to assist in removing this equipment from the hospital and loading it on the trucks. Local undertakers furnished ambulances for the removal of the new hospital to place them in the rooms best heated. No ill effect from the sudden removal is expected to result.

Unaware of Fire
Patients and hospital attaches were unaware that the building was on fire, until the flames had already gained considerable headway. The blaze was first discovered by pedestrians on the outside, who sent in the alarm. Because of the central location of the hospital, there were plenty of volunteers who rushed to the aid of hospital officials even before the arrival of the department. Until men rushed in from the outside, Dr. McClellan and his corps of assistants were unaware that the structure was on fire.

Fire Captain Charles Mahanna, shortly after the blaze, was gotten under control, was unable to state definitely what he considered its origin. The belief was expressed, however, that the fire started from a defective flue, along the ridge pole of the roof. When first discovered, the fire was running practically the entire length of the ridge pole, with flames leaping up from the dried shingles.

Smoke had not entered the hospital ward on the second floor of the main building, when volunteers rushed in from the outside, but the crackling of the flames in the attic could be heard plainly throughout the ward. Nurses, who remained at their posts, with Dr. McClellan, directed the rescue work and helped take care of the patients themselves. The rescue work in some cases took shape in an orderly procession of wheeled tables carrying patients, through the arway to the brick building. In the three instances named the patients were picked up bodily and carried out of the building.

Equipment Destroyed
With the removal of patients from the upstairs of the burning building, firemen took possession of that floor in fighting the flames from the inside and it was impossible to save any of the bedding or hospital equipment in the ward.

The fire ate its way down through the ceiling from the attic, and woodwork was burning when firemen directed three streams of water into the ward, checking the flames before they reached the floor and prevented passage into the downstairs portion of the building. A stream of water kept almost constantly on the frame arway connecting the frame building with the brick building, prevented the fire from passing through that area into the ward in the brick building.

Volunteers carried considerable equipment and medical appliances from the offices in the downstairs portion of the main building, where the offices and the X-Ray department are located. The heavy X-Ray equipment was covered up to prevent injury by water, and equipment that could be moved quickly was carried into the street. Water soaking through the second floor, deluged the offices in the first floor and the loss to office equipment, furniture, supplies and records, is expected to be considerable.

Immediately after the fire was gotten under control, firemen and volunteers entered the second story of the frame building and removed much equipment, including beds, water bottles and graniteware, that was not touched by the fire and was not injured by the water. A survey following the fire showed that the entire roof of the frame building and most of the ceilings throughout the ward, were burned through, leaving only the walls and partitions standing, above the second floor line.

The building is owned by Dr. B.

R. McClellan, who was preparing to abandon it soon, for hospital purposes, to remove to the new hospital he has erected on Rogers street. This move was hastened by the fire, and although part of the building is still fit for use, the move was made at once, all patients being transferred Thursday afternoon, with the exception of Mrs. Cline, who was taken to the Espey Hospital.

Dr. McClellan was unable to place an estimate on the loss, Thursday. That it will run into several thousand dollars is patent. Insurance is carried on the building but it is believed that the loss will not be covered through this source.

STANDARD BEARERS TO ATTEND SERVICES

The increased spirit manifested in the revival services held at the First M. E. Church reached a climax with the Wednesday evening meeting, according to active workers in the series of services.

An interesting feature of the evening was the testimonial of thirty members of the choir. A large congregation received the message of Dr. G. A. Scott.

The Standard Bearers, the young people's organization, of the church, will attend the meeting, Friday night, in a body, and it is thought that the service will be one of the largest held.

Stomach Weak?

HEARTBURN AND CONSTIPATION

They Quickly Make One Nervous and Sleepless.

Heartburn is simply a indication of the manufacture of poisonous acid and gas in the stomach. The throat becomes the chimney of the stomach through which some of the poisonous gas escapes giving one a foul breath and causing great pain at times. Usually where one has this symptom of stomach trouble it is found that the sufferer is greatly constipated which aids to the physical discomfort and the danger of a general physical breakdown. It is astonishing the number of women who suffer from indigestion and constipation and especially when there is in every drug-store a family remedy that quickly regulates and restores them to health if they just get it and use it.

From Muskegon, Mich., Mrs. Grignon tells us that she was a great sufferer—that after eating, gas would form in her stomach, giving her heartburn and stomach pains until she could not sleep. Sometimes the gas distended her so that she had terrible pains in the shoulder blades and around the heart. Then from less than one full bottle she found such quick and certain relief that she slept soundly, ate anything she wished without discomfort and had no return of the trouble when she wrote us. You can get Nerv-Worth at any drug store. It is always on sale at Sayre & Hemphill's drug store in this city—one dollar a bottle and all druggists are authorized to give the money back if the first bottle fails to give satisfaction.

CONSULT YOUR PHYSICIAN; TAKE NO CHANCE

Death Toll From Colds Rapidly Increasing Everywhere—Germs Multiply By the Millions—Great Danger From Pneumonia.

Health authorities and medical clinics warn the public that the common cold is a decided menace to life. Cold germs multiply so quickly that in many instances they overpower the vital resistance and great danger from dreaded pneumonia may result. Every sensible person should upon the first sign of a hot flash, followed by a chill, or a stubborn chest or throat cold, consult a physician at once.

One of the most effective home treatments and which is today used by millions of people is to take a steaming hot cupful of Bulgarian Blood Tea which can be had from any druggist. This hot medicinal tea assists nature to purify and strengthen the weak blood, stimulate the inactive kidneys, and cast the stagnant poisons from the bowels and intestinal tract. The rich juices, brewed from the plants, roots, barks, leaves, herbs and flowers that compose Bulgarian Blood Tea permeate the whole system and are wonderfully healthful.

ROADS OF CLINTON COUNTY ARE IN BAD SHAPE IT IS SAID

Wilmington, Feb. 17.—Until the freeze of Sunday night many of the roads in Clinton county had become almost impassable as result of the thaw and rain.

Most of the main roads were in good condition, but some of the roadways where drainage was poor or where there was no crown were cut through in many places.

This was particularly true of cross roads, and trucks had started deep ruts which were increased by other motor vehicles until the ruts were axle deep.

Speedy attention by dragging and scraping and application of material when the weather permits will be necessary to save some of the roads from still more serious damage it is believed.

McCreight was shot in the abdomen. Adams was also struck by a bullet but only slightly hurt. Fleeing after the shooting the gunmen dropped a set of burglar tools.

McCreight is survived by his wife, two children and a sister and a brother. He was a new member of the police department which was just organized in Wilmington since that city came into the city class.

T. H. McMICHAEL NOMINATED TO FILL SEMINARY VACANCY

Dr. T. H. McMichael, president of Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, has been nominated to fill the vacancy on the faculty of the Xenia Theological Seminary, St. Louis, created by the death of Dr. Joseph Kyle, as the first step toward selecting a successor to Dr. Kyle as president of the institution.

The Rev. Charles P. Proudfoot, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church, and T. Dales Kyle, of this city, member of the Seminary board, returned to Xenia, Thursday at noon, after attending the sessions which nominated Dr. McMichael as a member of the faculty.

After the faculty vacancy has been filled by the selection of the new member, the board of managers, at a meeting probably to be held in May, will elect a president from the faculty to succeed Dr. Kyle.

CREDIT NECESSARY IN BUSINESS SAYS HARDWARE DEALER

Columbus, Feb. 16.—The Ohio Hardware Association convention turned from business to social affairs last night, when several hundred members and guests attended a ball at the Deshler. The formal sessions for the day ended at noon and the afternoon was spent in the purchase of equipment from dealers exhibiting goods at Memorial Hall. Extensive credit systems are made necessary by modern business methods, W. C. DeWesse of Delphos told the dealer yesterday. Credit is necessary to the conduct of a successful business of any size and should not be scorned by hardware men he said.

Quick turnover of stock was advocated by W. H. Rattenbury, New Britain, Conn. Dealers should keep complete stocks, he said, but should be sufficiently progressive in their business methods that the lines should not rest in their storehouses. F. E. Strong, Battle Creek, Mich., member of the board of governors of the National Hardware Association told how he ran a successful hardware store.

Albert Zettler of Zettler Brothers' hardware store, Columbus, led the discussion at the question box this morning, taking up the subject of market declines. James A. Miller of the James Albert Miller Co., accountants, Dayton, will speak on "Better Accounting," and a discussion of the implement, business for 1922 will be led by Stanley M. Sellers of Lebanon.

ALABAMA FIRM ANOTHER BIDDER

Washington, Feb. 16.—Entry of the Alabama Power Co., yesterday in the list of bidders for the government's properties at Muscle Shoals was regarded by officials as offering formidable rivalry to Henry Ford's proposal now before Congress.

Secretary Weeks probably will expedite delivery of the new offer to Congress so that consideration of the Alabama and Ford proposals can be undertaken simultaneously and their respective merits discussed before final action is taken on the Muscle Shoals question. The Alabama company offer is for purchase of the Warrenton power plant and transmission line and lease for 50 years of the other properties under provisions of the federal water power act.

Members of the house military committee investigating the Ford offer learned with interest of the Alabama company's proposal, but said they would not delay action on the already before them pending receipt from the war secretary of the other.

Chairman Kahn was uncertain how long the military committee would continue the hearings on Mr. Ford's offer. Witnesses yet to be heard include a number of the most important on the docket, such as Hugh Cooper, consulting engineer for the government on the construction of the Muscle Shoals projects; attorneys for the Air Nitrates Corporation and the Alabama Power Co., both of which claim optional privileges for properties at Muscle Shoals, which they have declared their intention to exercise before the government decide upon a disposal of them to private interests.

Yesterday the committee heard Governor Alfred Taylor of Tennessee, in addition to Professor Milton Whitney, chief of the soils bureau, department of agriculture. The governor was accompanied by a delegation of Tennesseans, for whom he spoke in condemnation of the Alabama Power Co., which he declared, was opposing the offer of Mr. Ford.

NO DEFENSE OF MOVIES NECESSARY

New York, Feb. 16.—Asserting that there were in the movies men and women whom all would be glad to have in their families, David W. Griffith, motion picture producer, warned the Advertising Club of New York against "the power of the sincere, fanatical minority."

In a speech which followed close upon the church debate between Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton and William A. Brady, theatrical potentate, upon the relative moral standing of pastors and stage folk, Mr. Griffith declared no defense of the movies was necessary.

"Shall we attack banks when a banker gets into the newspapers or the church when a minister gets into the newspapers?" he asked.

SECRET ARRESTS IN BLACKHAND MADE

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 16.—Secret arrests in Cleveland, Des Moines and Salt Lake City, were reported here today to have been made by federal officers in connection of their investigation of activities of a black hand gang, eight alleged members of which are under arrest here.

The gang is believed to have operated on a nation wide scale. Local operations are said recently to have netted the gang more than $100,000, and it was reported that the death of a prominent man here not long ago is attributed to fright following a death threat received from the gang.

ALLEGED SLAYER WILL BE HANGED

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Harvey W. Church, slayer of two men, will be removed to the death cell late today, his final hope of cheating the gallows having been dissipated when Gov. Len Small refused to exercise executive clemency in his behalf.

Church, who has been on a hungry strike for more than thirty days in an apparent effort to starve himself before he could be executed, collapsed when informed that the governor had denied his final plea. He will be hanged at dawn tomorrow.

The slaying of Bernard Daugherty and Carl Ausmus, automobile salesmen, to gain possession of a motor car that he might "show off" to his friends is the crime for which Church will pay the penalty.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Menthosulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness. You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You get a little jar of Menthosulphur at any drug store.

THE GERMAN BUDGET.

For the first time since the war, Germany actually has a national budget prepared for submission to the Reichstag before the fiscal year begins on April 1. But according to reports it shows a lack in some directions which justifies the assertion that Germany needs outside advice in setting her financial house in order.

The budget runs into big figures, which is not surprising, for it provides for salaries for superfluous officials and employees in a way to make even easy-going America sit up and take notice.

Among other things, a large appropriation is sought for the division of "state woods and forests," with salaries for a corps of 68 men. Yet it is said that these state tracts consist of a few trees planted for experiment on old army exercising grounds and that the trees could be counted on the fingers of two hands. An equally lavish corps of retainers and marks is sought for the care of a few left-over army horses which have not yet been sold to civilians and whose future is a matter of solemn debate in various departments. These are only two instances of waste and extravagance said to be visible on every hand which help to account for Germany's inability to meet her lawful obligations.

German honesty, powers of economy, organization and high efficiency have long been famous, but there is little to indicate them in any such reports. If Germany will not clear the situation, her creditors will be forced to.

PARLEY RESULTS GRATIFY DR. WANG.

China came to the Washington Conference empty-handed, hoping for much but expecting little. Her delegation has gone home with three treaties, all in China's favor. China also has succeeded in eliciting the sympathy of the Powers participating in the Conference and focusing the world's attention on China's predicament.

Thus, Dr. Ching Hui Wang, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of China, summed up the results of the Conference as they concern the Chinese Republic. Dr. Wang's statement was given in an interview just before he left Washington for Seattle, whence he will sail for China on February 18.

"China has participated recently in two international conferences," said Dr. Wang, "at Paris and at Washington. In Paris the results were negative. We got nothing and we did not sign the treaty. Here we did not get everything we wanted, but we did get enough to meet the immediate circumstances."

The Shantung settlement, Dr. Wang asserted, has been accepted as the best possible solution of that question, and he regards it as significant that no protest was received before the agreement was signed.

CO-OPERATION THE FARMERS SALVATION.

The embattled farmers of the United States are demanding many things of the government. Yet, according to a newspaper writer who has been inquiring among the "dirt farmers" of his section, they are not really expecting a great deal from that source and not so intensely interested in what is going on at Washington as their spokesmen would make it appear. The fact is, says this inquirer, that the farmers expect to "work out their own salvation." They want help along certain lines, within the practical range of governmental action, but they believe that the big task rests with them, and they believe they can handle it.

How? By co-operation. The farmers have seen a great light. Always, heretofore, it has been their peculiar reproach that they could not or would not work together. That reproach is past. They are getting together with a vengeance. They seem as class-conscious now as the industrial workers and the manufacturers, and they seem bent on organizing as widely and operating as effectively as either of those other classes. They may go farther—and they could, if bent on it, because they combine in themselves the power of both capital and labor.

"The modern passion of the farmer for co-operation," says the writer referred to, "is one of the most remarkable things about him." And it will be his salvation. The inveterate individualist is now working with his fellows in buying and selling. He is standardizing production and distribution. And if he keeps on, he will be running this country in a few years. The "backbone of the nation," as politicians have patronizingly called him, may become also the head. Biologists say, anyway, that the head is merely a highly developed end of the spine.

ONE WAY TO BUILD HOMES.

The most ambitious home-building project ever contemplated is now under consideration in New York City. It calls for 1,500 model apartment houses containing 45,000 four-room apartments, and costing $100,000,000, to be rented to workmen's families at moderate rates. It looks now as if the project will really be undertaken.

The promoter of the plan is Samuel Untermyer, a corporation lawyer, who wants no profit out of it. The money is to be obtained from life insurance companies, at low interest. A big contracting firm has offered to provide the plans and superintend the erection of the buildings at actual cost. Building trades unions are willing to work on the jobs for less than their established wage rate, or give extra time for nothing. Manufacturers of nearly all the materials needed have agreed to cut their prices far below the current market quotations. Money will be saved at every step.

The most remarkable thing about it is the generosity discovered in group after group of men who have been subjected to severe criticism for their alleged extortion in the past. Evidently there is more good-will in the average American whether financier, professional man, business man or workman, than most of us have supposed.

This plan looks more promising than any other yet put forward to provide the housing needed in American industrial centers. If it will work in New York, why can it not be adapted to the whole country?

The most important industry in Ireland is the raising of live stock. Live animals are the greatest single item of export.

BEAUTY HINTS

The worst enemy to woman's good looks is fatigue. The young girl whose face is tired and drawn is a pathetic object, but the mature woman whose face is tired and drawn is doubly so. One thinks of all the days of strain and nights of worry, the tasks that were done with an aching back, the hours of work that little by little snapped her youth and beauty.

A woman always feels frightfully sorry for another woman when she reads that story on her face. She feels frightfully sorry for herself when she looks into the glass and sees tired lines around her eyes and her mouth, lines that detract from her natural good looks.

Here are some hints. When you are very tired and yet must look nice, steam your face, then rub it thickly with cold cream, take a hot bath, wash off the cream, roll yourself up in a bath robe and lie down.

If you haven't a great deal of time to give to the rejuvenating process lie flat on your back with your hands at your side and shut your eyes and try not to think of anything. If you have an hour or so, rub hair tonic on your head and manicure your nails. These are the most beautifully restful and relaxing processes that I know about. It may be because you feel unconsciously that you are improving your appearance by these little attentions. Or it may be because these trivial occupations are rather restful and relaxing in themselves. In any case try it the next time you are very tired.

While you may not feel much better you will look infinitely younger because the cream and hot water refresh your skin.

Miss M. C. L.—When the henna paste is used to color the stray gray hairs, it is not expected to dye them to the exact shade of your own hair. The paste is only supposed to remain on the head long enough to tint the hair so there will be no longer be the sharp contrast between the hair that has turned gray and that of the natural coloring.

THIS VALE OF TEARS.

There is no country here below that can't produce some brand of woe. I've traveled all the world around to find some hollow in the ground where one in comfort might recline, and cry aloud, "This country's fine!" I've lived where it is always spring and birds are ever on the wing, and there I found the noxious fly would recognize no time to die. I pitched my tent beside the sea and watched the billows wild and free, and thought at last I'd found a place designed to soothe the human race. And then I saw a fogbank creep from out the reaches of the deep; the fog was gray and dank and cold, as clammy as the graveyard mold; it soaked into my bones and thews, and filled my organs and my shoes, and rheumatism climbed my frame and broke my heart and left me lame. I built myself a little shack upon a mountain's rocky back; and there the air was pure and sweet, the view was fine enough to eat. But there large rats their council held, and all night long the bobcats yelled, and nameless varmints to their dens bore off my Poland China hens. If one's inclined to tear his hair, he'll gather lemons everywhere; he'll find no place beneath the sun where grief and trouble do not run. Contentment, like a thrifty tree, will grow wherever you may be, if you don't rake around to find some sorrows to disturb your mind.

BABY CAN'T TAKE MEDICINE

But Baby Doesn't Mind Nash's Croup-Pneumonia Salve and "Nash's" Brings Quick Relief.

Don't give baby any kind of medicine unless the doctor says so. It's 10 to 1 that baby's stomach cannot stand the medicine you could take yourself.

When baby catches cold, rub Nash's Salve on his chest; when his little nose starts running put Nash's Salve in each nostril. The fumes or vapor from this wonderful preparation will open his head and soothe the inflamed membranes without the use of medicines and without upsetting the little stomach.

Adults find the Nash Treatment equally effective and will receive its benefits just as quickly. Thousands of families therefore keep a bottle of Nash's Salve in the house all the time and very often father has another bottle at the office. It is put up in two sizes, 30 and 60 cents, and sold by D. D. Jones, and all druggists.

MRS. HATFIELD SABINA, OHIO

In Pitiable Condition when she Began
Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabina, Ohio.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and irregularity. I was weak and nervous and could hardly stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal. I was this way for about a year and had tried several medicines and had a physician, but to no avail. My sister was taking your medicine and finally induced me to try it. I now feel fine and can do my housework without any trouble at all. You can use this letter for the sake of others if you wish."—Mrs. WELDON G. HATFIELD, R. R. 3, Sabina, Ohio.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble. Give it a fair trial. It surely helped Mrs. Hatfield, just as it has many, many other women.

TO WIND UP DAIRY WORK IN COUNTY

A series of community meetings, starting Feb. 20, for the purpose of concluding the work of dairy organizations in a number of the townships in Greene County, is being planned by the Farm Bureau. The meetings will be preceded in each township, by the solicitation of members for the dairy organization, by farmers of the county, with the assistance of J. H. Kauffman, of Montgomery County, who is assisting in the Farm Bureau solicitation. The meetings will be held in the evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the following townships:

Monday Spring Valley; Tuesday Xenia; Wednesday, Cedarville; Thursday, Yellow Springs and Friday, Jamestown.

HOG SALE SAID TO BE SUCCESS

A large crowd and good prices characterized the third annual cooperative Big Type Poland China Sale, held at the Fairgrounds, Tuesday, as a big success.

"The offerings were exceptionally good," is the opinion of County Agent Prince, "averaging $40 a head, which is a good price considering the price of other farm products. The sale was a success in my viewpoint, in that it will be the means of a number of farmers of the county breeding purebred animals, since the sale."

MEETING CALLED SATURDAY

A meeting of the Poland China Association will be held Saturday afternoon, at the Farm Bureau office for the purpose of organizing for the year 1922.

TO HOLD LAST INSTITUTE

The fourth and last Farm Bureau Institute in Greene County to be held this winter, will be held in Bellbrook, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 24 and 25.

ATTENTION TO NUMBER OF CASES OF "PINK EYE" HERE

A noticeable number of cases of "pink eye" among the children, of the city has reached the attention of the health officials, but the disease is not alarming, according to County Health Commissioner Dr. R. H. Grube.

The medical term applied to "pink eye" is catarrhal conjunctivitis, a wave of which is sweeping over the Greene and surrounding counties. The condition is usually associated with infectious diseases and as a rule is found in coryza or cold eruptions, cutaneous diseases, influenza and the usual infections due to bacteria in the atmosphere.

The disease is communicable, and every precaution should be taken to protect others, is the advice of health officials. "The disease often begins in one eye, and later infects the other eye," say officials and no child should be permitted to remain in school if the eyes water or are inflamed. It is best to stay in dark room, and rest the eyes.

The patient should immediately consult a physician, because if the inflammation continues to run high, a corneal abscess might be the result. School children who are found to have the disease are always advised to remain at home.

The Health Commissioner urges parents and teachers to be on the alert to detect the trouble, and the children must be kept out of school until a physician or health commissioner gives permission to return.

CHAMBLISS-IRWIN NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED

A pretty ceremony was solemnized at the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Wednesday evening, with the marriage of Miss Harriet O. Chambliss, and Mr. Rupert W. Irwin, well-known couple of the city. The service was read at six-thirty o'clock, the Rev. G. A. Scott, officiating, in the presence of a small company of friends and relatives of the pair.

The attendants were Miss Edith Neeld, and Mr. Ralph Chambliss, brother of the bride. For her marriage, the bride wore a modish suit of blue tulle, with bands of stone martin. Her hat was of blue, and she wore a corsage of orchids, and sweetheart roses. Miss Neeld wore blue silk, with a hat of henna shade and with a corsage of pink carnations. The impressive single ring ceremony was used.

Following the service, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin, left for a short wedding trip, to Cincinnati, and other points in southern Ohio. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping at 314 East Second Street, where their home is waiting their occupancy.

Mrs. Irwin is the daughter of Mr. Andrew J. Chambliss, and was before her marriage employed as a buyer for the ready-to-wear department of the Hutchison and Gibney Company. She is popular in a large circle of friends, and a number of prenuptial affairs were given in her honor. Mr. Irwin is connected with the Ohio Fuel Supply office in this city, as agent, and is well known here.

DANGER OF JUST LETTING A COLD RUN ITS COURSE

Public Warned to Beware of a
Three Days' Cough and Break
It Up Before It's Too Late, by Taking Kurokol, the New Scientific Discovery.

Money Refunded If Kurokol
Fails to Bring Relief.

Leading authorities are using every effort to arouse the public to the danger of letting common colds just run their course, for it is definitely known that many serious lung complications such as pneumonia, grippe and etc., develop from colds that hang on persistently.

Colds are curable and preventable, and Kurokol provides the safest, surest, and quickest, as well as the most practical, treatment for colds yet discovered.

Kurokol is almost magical in its effect. The first dose usually stops the tendency to sneezing and coughing, and relieves the feeling of discomfort, and the second and third doses usually suffice to stop the progress of a cold altogether.

The wonderful efficiency of Kurokol is best shown by the fact that all druggists are instructed to refund money where it fails to give satisfactory results.

MOOSEHEART LEGION GUESTS OF AUXILIARY

Xenia Chapter, No. 310, Women of Mooseheart Legion, entertained their husbands and friends at a Valentine party in their lodge hall, on West Main Street, Tuesday evening.

The hall was very prettily decorated with the Valentine colors of red and white. Covers were laid for ninety guests. The menu consisted of stewed chicken and noodles, mashed potatoes, salad, celery and pickles, bread and butter, ice cream and coffee.

After the supper was served Mr. William Cyphers, Dictator of Xenia Lodge, No. 1629, Loyal Order of Moose, gave the nine o'clock service in remembrance of the children of Mooseheart. This service is one of the most impressive ceremonies of the Moose Ritual, as it is given at the retiring hour of the children.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Mrs. Stacey Humphrey, sons, Harold and Lawrence and granddaughters wish to thank the friends the Rev. Mr. Smith, the singers and especially Mr. Ralph Neeld for the kindness shown during the illness and death of their beloved husband, father and grandfather, Mr. Stacey Humphrey.

His widow, sons and granddaughters. 2-15

Mrs. Asa Price, who underwent an operation at the McClellan Hospital recently, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to her home, on North West Street, Wednesday.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FOUND NOT GUILTY OF SERIOUS CHARGE

Mrs. Eva Leach, 38, colored, charged with keeping a place where intoxicating liquor is sold, was found not guilty by Judge E. Dawson Smith in a decision handed down in police court, Thursday morning.

Mrs. Leach was arrested in a raid conducted on her home on East Main street at 1.30 o'clock, Sunday morning, in which Assistant Chief Mangan and Patrolmen Simms and Jones participated. Ten men arrested in the raid, were fined for loitering, but Mrs. Leach plead not guilty and stood trial in police court, Wednesday morning. Judge Smith reserving his decision in the case until Thursday morning.

Because of the interest that attached to the case and the legal questions involved in entering a private residence without a search warrant, Judge Smith rendered the following written decision, Thursday morning.

"I find the defendant, Eva Leach, not guilty as charged in the affidavit, for the following reasons:

"1. To find a person guilty of 'keeping a place where intoxicating liquors are sold' the evidence must show at least one sale. The evidence in this case does not show that any sale was made.

"2. The place searched in this case was the private home of the defendant. The Crabble Act expressly forbids officers to enter and search a private home without a search warrant. The officers in this case admit they had no search warrant. A conviction can not be had on evidence thus secured."

RESIDENT HAS AWFUL EXPERIENCE

"I was twice confined in hospitals, in the last one nothing but gruel water was injected into me four times a day, as my stomach would not retain any food. I suffered terribly; was reduced to a skeleton. My folks saw an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it has surely saved my life. I weigh 150 pounds now." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

THE QUESTION OF PATTERN IN FURNISHINGS

The housekeeper, as the purchasing agent for the entire family, should look into the subject of good design before buying rugs, wall-paper, draperies and upholstery. She should not depend upon the advice of a furniture salesman along this line; for, the salesman either may not himself know what a good pattern is, or he may be accustomed to patrons who prefer to buy more or less striking patterns and novelty goods rather than the conservative designs pronounced in good taste by interior decorators.

The first thing one should learn about design, is that motifs employed for patterns are of two kinds. 1st, abstract or geometric forms which are simply harmonious shapes so repeated as to make a pleasing pattern (the Greek key pattern, for instance). 2nd, concrete or nature forms "conventionalized" or adapted to their use as pattern—the French fleur-de-lis, for instance.

The greater number of "motifs"—which is the pattern figure which is repeated again and again—are taken from the second class—the nature forms. Any nature motif can be conventionalized—which means arranging it in an orderly way, changing its form slightly—not necessary being true to nature—and also making changes in its original size and color. Since both walls and floor should be considered merely the background for the furniture, patterns for wall-paper and rugs should be unobtrusive in design, and of course, in color also.

But perhaps the easier way to guide the home-maker in her choice of design, is to suggest what not to buy. Avoid the following: Medallions, scrolls without beginning or end, fluttering ribbons and bowknots, baskets of flowers or fruit, widely separated motifs, animals, landscape patterns, trellises and vines, imitations of leather, and simulated columns of panels.

"But what is wrong with such patterns?" I can imagine some of my readers asking when they read the above paragraph. Just this: Widely separated motifs are undesirable because they cause the eye to jump from

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE PHELPS

JACK'S PLAN OF PUNISHMENT FAILS CHAPTER 41

A good dinner, although very plain eaten, and followed by a cigar, Jack's job of it while he was about it! Helen should see he could be firm with her. He had been too easy going. It was a failing he had, and with Helen it had grown greater. He did so hate a row. But he had started, and she might as well learn he meant what he said—from now on.

He threw out his chest as he walked along. He felt every inch a man, and the head of his house. He passed a motion picture house. A cheap one. He jingled the change in his pocket a moment, then decided to go in. He couldn't walk the streets for an hour or two, and he had no where else to go. He was not a club man, couldn't afford to be he thought bitterly.

The picture hardly kept his attention, but the place was warm and he was comfortable. It was nearly 10 o'clock when he followed the crowd out into the street.

"I guess she won't stay at that club much later than this!" he said to himself as he looked at his watch. Someway he suddenly felt a desire to hurry, to get home. The street cars were slow. He jumped off and took the nearest subway. Helen might be worried, might think something had happened to him.

He let himself in quietly. It was almost 11, and Helen might be asleep. If she was he wouldn't disturb her. She was always tired when she had been at the club, tired and excited. He heard murmuring voices, someone was with her. Suppose she were ill—the doctor!

A light laugh reassured him, and he opened the living room door, then halted on the threshold. Helen and Horace Barnes were sitting opposite each other at a card table playing rum.

"Hello!" she said, glancing up for just a moment, then after Barnes had risen and shaken hands, she went on, "you should have been with us, Jack! We have had the loveliest time! Mr. Barnes took me to the quaintest place for dinner, and it was just perfect. It was an Hawaiian place, and so cozy and dear. I don't know when I have had such a delightful evening."

"I am sure I am much pleased," Jack said stiffly.

"To bad you couldn't have been with us, Hunter," Barnes said. "I suppose you were writing one of those cracking big policies you have the habit of reeling off."

"No, but I should like to write one now—or you." Jack had spoken on the spur of the moment, the words coming almost of their own volition.

"Oh what fun! Make him take a big one, Jack, and promise me I may have every cent of the commissions."

"I don't have to promise that. You get them anyway," ironically replied Jack.

"Get out your papers and write the policy," Helen urged. But suddenly Jack did not like the idea of making money through Barnes, even though it were in a perfectly legitimate way.

"If Mr. Barnes wants insurance I will see him down town. Now if you two will excuse me, I'm going to bed. I'm tired!" he added briefly.

"Certainly, Hunter, don't mind me. I was just saying I ought to go as you came in."

"It is pretty late," Jack said taking out his watch and impolitely winding it. "Goodnight!" and he left the room. But not before he had seen the angry light in Helen's eyes. He knew she was angry because he had hinted it was time for Barnes to go.

His little attempt at asserting his independence had failed. Worse! It had given Helen a chance to spend a long evening alone with Barnes, and he couldn't say a word. They had tried to find him—probably didn't want to—he thought, and he had been in a dingy restaurant eating a plain little dinner while they were feasting in some smart place.

"What's the use," he said to himself as he had said so many times before. "What's the use! Everything I try to do goes wrong." He lighted a cigar, switched on the lights in the bedroom, took the evening paper from his pocket and tried to read. But the hum of voices from the other room disturbed him. He found himself listening trying to discover what they found to talk about after being together all the evening. The clock struck 12. He heard a movement in the other room, the voices grew louder then he heard Barnes bid Helen goodnight and he was gone.

"High time too!" Jack said aloud.
